“Keep your mind clear on this one truth. Our present problems will not vanish because of our military might, our political clout in international matters. It must begin with a “heartfelt” for our personal and then national disobedience to God, and must begin with those of us who claim Christ as Savior.”

From Col. Jack Mohr’s last publication, Holocaust Education in American Schools, printed in June 2003 and now available from Scriptures for America Ministry, PO Box 766, LaPorte, CO 80535.

Colonel Mohr Has Finished the Fight

It is with sadness we report to our readership the passing of a great faithful and courageous Christian soldier, Lt. Col. Gordon “Jack” Mohr Aus Ret.

Jack was a great man and had, through the providence of God, greatly influenced my life. In one of his last, if not the last writing to me, not long ago, he indicated he did not think he would be in this world much longer. I responded that according to the Bible Elijah sensed when God would take him prior to his departure – not just Elijah but Elisa, also. I told him that I had a strong sense of his impending departure and that I was praying for him; that if his work was done and if, in fact, he was to become infirm or could no longer do the work he loved doing that God would take him. That was our last communiqué save for a letter that my wife and I wrote him while he was in the hospital.

I must say I feel very sad and a bit lonely at his departure. I loved him and admired him. People need heroes and the enemy has taken Godly heroes from our young people though we still have those many heroes of the Bible. To me, Col. Jack Mohr was of the caliber of hero as those Bible heroes; and, he was my hero.

He was a military man and though having retired from the military with honors (he was decorated in WW II and was one of the most highly decorated soldiers in the Korean War) he never retired from the Lord’s Army. He was a faithful fighting Christian soldier right up to the end.

Toward the end of his military career as a Christian soldier he could not, due to age and failing health, travel to speak but would speak on the radio with me from time to time. He spoke at our last gathering in Little Rock, Arkansas, October 20, 2002. I saw him last on May 20, 2003, just prior to our Branson, Missouri, meeting and knew at the time it would be the last time I would see him. Even then, though he had just returned from a hospital stay and was having trouble walking, he was pounding away on his word processor writing his next “Watchman on the Wall Intelligence Newsletter” and ministering, through the mail, to the many who he loved and cared for.

Picture a soldier being carried out of a battle on a stretcher, propped up on one elbow, firing his army .45 towards the enemy line and you have pictured Col. Mohr as he left this world. Even while confined to his hospital bed, he urged his son to get out his latest mailing. It was entitled “From the Watchman’s Corner, June 2003, Holocaust Education in American Schools.” On the cover is a picture of a helpless school child being forced to wear a six-pointed star and reenact the so-called Holocaust (we offer that publication in this newsletter for free to our supporters in memory of Jack).

Col. Mohr did not call the anti-Christ Jews God's chosen people and would often say that his grandfather had taught him, while raising corn on the farm, that if one was going to be for corn he must also be against weeds; unlike the Baptist he once was he did not call the Jews God's chosen people but the anti-Christ that they are.

We did a tribute in memory to Col. Mohr on our radio broadcast on July 22, 2003, in which we played many sound bits of Jack telling his story. I told the story of how God used him to give me my first baptism of fire in the Jew media. That broadcast is available to our supporters free of charge. I've put in this newsletter the photo taken of Jack, Pastor and Mary Alice Jones, and myself taken the last time we were all together. I love Jack and shall miss him very much.

He was loved by many and will be missed by many. Ralph Forbes, who was one of his many friends, wrote a fine tribute to him at his web-site

(we have printed it in this newsletter).

We salute you, Jack, a true Christian soldier, and know that you are indeed an old soldier who will never die. John 11:25-26 – Jesus said to her, ²⁵"I am the resurrection and the life; he who believes in Me shall live even if he dies, ²⁶and everyone who lives and believes in Me shall never die."

A TRIBUTE TO A TRUE AMERICAN HERO

by Ralph Forbes

Lt. Col. Gordon
"JACK"
Mohr Aus Ret.

Jack Mohr was born in Chicago, IL., January 1st, 1916, the first baby born in Chicago that year. He was raised on a farm and joined the Army as an enlisted man during the early days of World War II. He served with distinction in World War II and Korea, holding every Combat Infantry leadership position from PFC, to Company Commander. He retired in 1964 as a Lieutenant Colonel.

While working with the Korean Military Advisory Group in prewar Korea, he was captured during an abortive coup attempt by the Communists against the government of President Syngman Rhee in November 1948. He was tried by a Communist People's Court and sentenced to be shot by a Red firing squad. He was able to escape with the aid of a South Korean Sergeant who had joined the rebel force. After making his way back to friendly forces he chose to stay. When the war began on June 25, 1950, he was with a South Korean Infantry Battalion on the 38th parallel, north of Seoul on the major invasion route. He was the first American to be wounded in that war, and received the Silver Star, from Major General William Dean, (this was the day before the General was captured) for action during the opening hours of the Korean War. He holds the record for the most number of consecutive days on the front line in combat duty without a break, (276) from July 12, 1950 to May 5, 1951. He fought the war with a reward of $250,000 in gold, "dead or alive" on his head, offered by the North Korean government. In 1951, he worked with American prisoners returning from prison camps in North Korea, and as result of his first hand experience, wrote and taught the first lessons in the Military Code of Conduct at Fort Devens, Mass.

Jack was a well-known fundamental Baptist evangelist, with over thirty years speaking experience, which took him into 49 states and 5 foreign countries. For twelve years, he was in the American opinion speaker's Bureau of the John Birch Society. He became noted for his outspoken, uncompromising stand for Truth and Right in politics and religion and his fight against Communism and Treason.

Jack began an in-depth study into Judaism and the biblical and historical roots of true Israel shortly before I met him in the 1970s. Because he had the courage to preach the Truth as God showed him the Light, Jack suffered much harassment and persecution from government agencies, such as the IRS for warning against the dangers posed by Zionism in our government and the Christian church. Even worse for Jack were the cowardly attacks and lies against him by the false shepherds of Judeo-churchianity. Some of his battles were published in the old Spotlight, "Korean War Hero Devotes His Life to Fight for America, Christianity," December 5, 1983, under my nom de plume, R.K. Travler.

In recent years Jack was no longer able to lecture and travel as extensively as he had done so tirelessly for so many years; but he continued his prolific research and writing, including publishing a Quarterly Intelligence Report that gave insight into things denied to America by the media. He was the author of more than 23 books. He attended Moody Bible Institute. He won an honorary Doctor of Divinity Degree as well as earned degrees in Doctor of Letters, and Master of Theology.

After surviving years of IRS persecution, the theft of his military retirement, and countless shameful insults to injuries, Jack and his beloved wife Doris moved to Little Rock, Arkansas.

Doris peacefully passed away to be with our Lord on June 21, 2000. In tears of grief, Jack wrote movingly: "She had been my friend, companion, and help mate for the last fifty years of my life. Her silly stories and fun loving ways will be something that I cherish until God calls me home. Those of you who loved and know Doris can rest, and praise God for she is truly healed and living life praising our God and Savior."- Jack Mohr

THE HAND THAT ROCKS THE CRADLE

Titus 2:3-5 – "Older women likewise are to be reverent in their behavior, not malicious gossips, nor enslaved to much wine, teaching what is good, that they may encourage they young women to love their husbands, to love their children, to be sensible, pure, workers at home, kind, being subject to their own husbands, that the Word of God may not be dishonored." Special Radio Message

by Mary Alice Jones.

Mary Alice was a faithful, loving wife and helpmate to the late Pastor Earl Jones for 58 years. In keeping with the instruction given in Titus, she gives wise instructions to the younger ladies in Christ and tells the touching, moving story of her life with Earl that began with a war-time marriage and ended with a very unique and blessed departure.

We would like to give this message contained on a C-60 tape (which we played on the radio on August 8, 2003) to any who write and request it. It will help equip young women to be what their Lord would have them to be and equipping the saints, for the work of service is part of the job description of this ministry. Thank you, Mary Alice, for allowing us to help other women benefit from your 58 years of marriage to Earl.

Ephesians 4:11-16

¹¹And He gave some as apostles, and some as prophets, and some as evangelists, and some as pastors and teachers, ¹²For the equipping of the saints for the work of service, to the building up of the body of Christ; ¹³Until we all attain to the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to a mature man, to the measure of the stature which belongs to the fullness of Christ. ¹⁴As a result, we are no longer to be children, tossed here and there by waves, and carried about by every wind of doctrine, by the trickery of men, by craftiness in deceitful scheming; ¹⁵But speaking the truth in love, we are to grow up in all aspects into Him, who is the head, even Christ, ¹⁶From whom the whole body, being fitted and held together by that which every joint supplies, according to the proper working of each individual part, causes the growth of the body for the building up of itself in love.

A VOTE FOR JESUS CHRIST

By Pastor Peter J. Peters

Here is an idea I intended to debut at our annual Scriptures for America Family Bible Camp, on the radio, and on the internet (around July 28, 2003) - and in this newsletter.

I am asking for our readers and listeners to give their opinion and to add to this idea by writing us or e-mailing us at preacher@sfaw.org. Mark your response as “a vote for Jesus idea” because we want to gather all of the ideas possible.

It is possible that our coming camp gathering will be the most important (and historical) of any we have ever had for we intended to form a pre-planning committee in preparation of a campaign committee for 2004.

The Greeks, I am told, never said “I think”; rather, they would say “the thought occurred to me”, recognizing that good thoughts and ideas come from another source. Well, a thought has occurred to me that I feel compelled to share with you. If it is a good idea then it is from God (for He does use weak, foolish, and insignificant men). If it is bad idea then I shall take full credit for it. Let us know if you think it is a good and Godly idea or not.

I have wondered how we can get God’s people to cry out to Him and I think this idea is a way.

I have wondered how one could initiate an Elijah-inspired, Mount Carmel type confrontation with the Baal priests of the land and force the people to choose whom they shall serve. (I Kings 18:21); I think this idea could do.

I have wondered how one could expose the Christless politicians, organizations, and corporations. This idea could do it.

I have wondered what one can do to carry out the command given to us in II Peter 3:12 to “hasten the day of God.” This idea could do that.

This idea could be acceptable to most all churches. It can cross denominational lines of most churches because most churches hold to the following premises:

- ❖ Christ is King.
- ❖ Where two or three are gathered together in His name there He is also.
- ❖ Christ is the answer.

- ❖ They pray the Lord’s Prayer – Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven.

This idea is even for the 501-C3 churches whose mouths have been shut for fear of losing their tax-exempt status. It is also for the people who do not claim to be Christians or to be a part of a church, but are decent, down-to-earth people who live the ethic of “doing until others as they would have others do unto you.” Such people have one common denominator. That is:

They do not think poorly of Jesus Christ, have nothing against Him, and certainly believe He is better than most men and certainly better than most politicians.

This idea is even for atheists. Those that not only do not believe Jesus is God but don’t believe that there is a God.

This idea is for the content and the discontent - even for the really discontented; the ones that want a revolution, an overthrow of the establishment.

This idea is for those who have lost hope and sense it is no use. This idea is for those who would, in their hearts, like to defy the system.

You have heard of “Grass Roots Movements.” Well, this idea goes back to grass roots; the very roots of the birth of our country.

This idea is endorsable by those who want to get more people active in the political process – to get more people to vote.

This idea is a means of protest without being seen as a protestor.

And, it is an idea that can help correct one of the biggest mistakes God’s people ever made.

As stated, this idea will be debuted at our up and coming 2003 annual Scriptures for America family bible camp. At this camp there will be the first pre-planning committee of men for A CRUSADING CAMPAIGN FOR CHRIST FOR PRESIDENT IN 2004. Yes, that is the idea. Lets all cast our vote; a write-in vote for Jesus Christ for President in 2004.

Oh, I know at first thought that this might sound like a crazy idea, but I say it is an idea whose time has come – or I should say, has come again. This is not the first time someone has had this so-called crazy idea. Only, they had it on an even grander scale which I shall address further on.

But for now, let’s address the crazy idea that many will to this so-called crazy idea - a sort of involuntary reaction. It is the idea that we cannot have Christ as president or even as king UNTIL Jesus returns physically.

What was the biggest mistake that God’s people ever made? Was it not what we read in I Samuel 8:7?

And the Lord said to Samuel, “Listen to the voice of the people in regard to all that they say to you, for they have not rejected you but they have rejected Me from being king over them.”

Was He or was He not king over them? While all of the other nations had physical kings over them, they had an entirely different King and thus, an entirely different nation, an entirely different kingdom or government. To all of the other heathen nations at that time, such a concept was a crazy idea. Now many today sense a need for an entirely different system. After all, a better government is always the campaign promise of election candidates. So, even those in government or running for a government position acknowledge the need for a better government, and, of course believe, if they are elected, it will get better.

Well, you couldn’t get any better government than what the Israelites had with God as King; and, there was no physical, flesh-and-blood presence. Now who was their king? The God who did become flesh and blood and dwelt among us!!

John 1:1-5
¹*In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.* ²*He was in the beginning with God.* ³*All things came into being by Him, and apart from Him nothing came into being that has come into being.* ⁴*In Him was life, and the life was the light of men.* ⁵*And the light shines in the darkness, and the darkness did not comprehend it.*

John 1:14
And the Word became flesh, and dwelt among us, and we beheld His glory, glory as of the only begotten from the Father, full of grace and truth.

So, if He could be King then and not be physically present, why not correct the mistake and make Him at least president now?

Talk about a Grass Roots Movement! The very roots of America’s beginning goes back to this very idea – this so-called crazy idea.

In the excellent history book entitled The Light and The Glory on page 267 you can see that the authors show the idea our forefathers had prior to the American Revolution.

But most Crown appointed governors remained submitted to their king, and one wrote to the Board of Trade in England: “If you ask an American, who is his master? He will tell you he has none, nor any governor but Jesus Christ.” Which may have given rise to the cry which was soon passed up and down the length of America by the Committees of

Correspondence: "No king but King Jesus!"

I won't get into the mechanics of how this grass roots movement could spread like a hot prairie fire (for that will be part of the pre-planning committee's job at camp). Suffice it to say in this article that it would be a move that could: Force people to choose.

- ❖ Expose politicians and Baa I priests alike.
- ❖ Get people to cry out to God.
- ❖ Hasten the Day of the Lord.

The Mount Carmel Confrontation was to people and religious leaders alike when Eliza said in I Kings 18:20-21:

²⁰So Ahab sent a message among all the sons of Israel, and brought the prophets together at Mount Carmel. ²¹And Elijah came near to all the people and said, "How long will you hesitate between two opinions? If the Lord is God, follow Him; but if Baal, follow him." But the people did not answer him a word.

The churches say Jesus is King – yeah, even King of Kings – and they say Jesus is the answer. Isaiah said in Isaiah 29:13

Then the Lord said, "Because this people draw near with their words and honor Me with their lip service, but they remove their hearts far from Me, and their reverence for Me consists of tradition learned by rote

Picture this possibility - and it is a possibility – a nationally advertised web-site entitled Jesus Christ for President that shows a form letter to be sent to religious organizations such as TBN, 700 Club, Jerry Falwell, Focus on the Family, the Southern Baptist, etc., etc., just asking if they will endorse Jesus Christ as President and tell their followers to register to vote and to write His name in on the ballot. Then, at the web-site, show the ones that refuse to choose Jesus Christ for President.

Then at the end and at the beginning of the list of such Baal priests, state the question, "Should you support those who will not support Jesus for President?" It would put them on the spot to choose because they don't want to lose their support.

Likewise, there can be, at the web-site, a list of politicians who refuse to support and back Jesus Christ for President. Some may well think it would be political suicide to do so; but, it would be political suicide not to do so.

And who can disagree with the party platform that Jesus runs on? It is very simple – "Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven." Then the Ten Commandments could be listed and for more specifics, simply read His law that covers it all from economics to military to foreign policy.

People casting a write-in vote for Jesus is tantamount to the people crying out to their God and the Bible tells us over and over that when they do so He hears and answers.

Consider the following Scriptures:

Judges 3:9
And when the sons of Israel cried to the Lord, the Lord raised up a deliverer for the sons of Israel to deliver them, Othniel the son of Kenaz, Caleb's younger brother.

Judges 3:15
But when the sons of Israel cried to the Lord, the Lord raised up a deliverer for them, Ehud the son of Gera, the Benjamite, a left-handed man. And the sons of Israel sent tribute by him to Eglon the king of Moab.

Judges 6:6-10
⁶So Israel was brought very low because of Midian, and the sons of Israel cried to the Lord. ⁷Now it came about when the sons of Israel cried to the Lord on account of Midian, ⁸That the Lord sent a prophet to the sons of Israel, and he said to them, "Thus says the Lord, the God of Israel, "It was I who brought you up from Egypt, and brought you out from the house of slavery. ⁹And I delivered you from the hands of the Egyptians and from the hands of all your oppressors, and dispossessed them before you and gave you their land, ¹⁰And I said to you, 'I am the Lord your God; you shall not fear the gods of the Amorites in whose land you live. Buy you have not obeyed Me.'"

It would also be fulfilling the commandment of II Peter 3:12 of “looking for and hastening the coming of the Day of the Lord.”

As for 501-C3 churches, the ones who are afraid to endorse a candidate for president for fear of losing their IRS tax-exempt, even they can endorse this concept of a write-in vote for Jesus without fear.

It is possible to list all of the churches in America who will not at least read and make known the concept of a write-in vote for Jesus to their congregations. One can buy a mailing list which contains the addresses of every church in America. With this list, one could mail to every church in America; then, at the web-site, by state and cities, one could list the churches that refuse to endorse Jesus Christ as President.

The truth is one can probably get campaign flyers passed out in bars and brothels more easily than in churches. The web-site could have stories from individual campaigners in different towns telling of the bars and bar-owners that allowed the campaign brochures to be passed out versus the churches that did not.

There can be campaign buttons such as “Jesus is King – why not President too?”

And, what politician can find skeletons in Jesus’ closet? or dig up mud on the sinless, pure Christ? For that matter, what politician could, in good conscience, run against Him, putting himself forward as a better candidate than Jesus Christ?

Even those who do not believe in Jesus Christ will, for the most part, believe He is better than the politicians of our times.

Atheists and agnostic philosophers will be enticed to vote for Him because it is their chance to prove there is no God. If there is an overwhelming vote for Him – that is, a crying out to Him – and He does not step forward then they can say, “See, I told you so.” As I stated, this movement is for the content and discontent alike. For the people who are content with the status quo of “Fiddley Dee or Fiddley Dum”; voting for Jesus Christ is no problem. And, for the discontent, it is a way to show their discontent.

For those who have lost hope – the Bible says Jesus Christ is our hope – to cast such a vote is to again to have hope.

Such a vote is a way for those who want to defy the system to do so safely and in the privacy of the voting booth. As for voting, this could cause that huge mass who have given up hope and thus given up voting to register to vote. Don’t think that a huge block of new voters won’t get the attention of the politicians.

Now, many no longer vote because they recognize it has made no difference who they voted for because the system has just continually moved from what is right and virtuous to what is more unjust and insane. (Some say moving from the right to the left). They see their effort to vote as a waste of time. Well, voting for Jesus, then, can not be any more of a wasted vote. Many do not vote because they see casting a vote for the lesser of two evils as still a vote for evil; but, voting for Jesus will be a vote for good, not evil.

Many want a revolution – that is, a change. This can be the answer to a non-violent, bloodless revolution for Jesus has already endured at the hands of violent, ruthless men and has already shed the blood. We do not necessarily have to have more violence and bloodshed if we but vote for Him.

Most importantly, it is a step; a step of faith in reversing the worst mistake His people ever made.

As for the many other questions that may arise from having posed this idea, let it be said for now that a walk of faith is one step at a time. In the forming of our nation, they pictured a grander scale than president – they pictured Jesus as King. It was a step of faith. Concerning a step of faith, when God told the Israelites to take the land, they went even though they had no idea how they were going to cross the flooding Jordan River. As a result of marching forward one step at a time God made a way.

If we want to march forward in victory, then let us, in the election of 2004, take this step of faith and cast a write-in vote for Jesus Christ for President and God will make a way.

I John 5:4-For whatever is born of God overcomes the world; and this is the victory that has overcome the world – our faith.

PRAYING IN AUTHORITY

Why doesn't God answer my prayer? Of course there could be many reasons. All of which, falls upon us, not upon God.

One secret to answered prayer is to pray with authority.

We have a tendency to come to God with a sense of hesitation and uncertainty. Like a stranger approaching someone else's home, we knock meekly upon the door, step back, almost hoping that no one answers. When the door opens we apologize for intruding upon their time, expecting to be rejected.

God hates that! We are to act as true sons of God, who are anxious to have visitation with Him. He is our Heavenly Father. His very nature longs for the fellowship and presence of his people. He desires to bless and prosper his children. Powerful, authoritative prayer is the key that releases the blessing of God. We must remember that even the tangible needs and difficulties that we face often have a spiritual source. God has given us the authority to combat these things through prayer and the application of his spiritual armor listed in Ephesians 6:14-18.

For our struggle is not against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the powers, against the world forces of this darkness, against the spiritual forces of wickedness in the heavenly places. (Ephesians 6:12)

He has given us full access to his throne through Jesus Christ, his only begotten son. In turn, Jesus bestowed full authority upon us to use his name with all the power that it represents. We are to come boldly into His presence with full assurance and confidence. (Hebrews 4: 16)

Jesus became the sacrificial lamb that would forever seal God's provision for his people. He purchased our redemption, paying full price for our every need. (Isaiah 53:5). His covenant was sealed, his promise certified, and his perpetual kingdom was established. God has completed his perfect work.

There are five fundamental positions that we must establish if we are to pray with authority and power.

We must know who we are;

We are the sons of God, bathed in the righteousness of Christ, and established as rightful heirs to God's covenant with Abraham according to Galatians 3:26-27, 29.

²⁶*For you are all sons of God through faith in Christ Jesus.*

²⁷*For all of you who were baptized into Christ have clothed yourselves with Christ*

²⁹*And if you belong to Christ, then you are Abraham's descendants, heirs according to promise.*

God has given us access to his presence 24 hours a day. We are family. He expects us to approach him with the same confidence that a son feels when coming to his natural father. He enjoys our communication and fellowship.

As Abraham's descendants, we have a right to every Covenant promise. Yes, the Old Testament promises are alive and well. They were never destroyed or withdrawn. Now, through Jesus Christ our redeemer, we are the beneficiaries of both the Old and the New Covenant. Indeed, every promise in the book is mine.

We must know our promise. Once we understand who we are, and our privileged access unto God, we must understand what it means to be "Heirs according to promise".

We own the right to every commitment that God has made to his people. We are titleholders to his "deed" of promise. Exodus 34:10 reveals one of his promises.

Then God said, "Behold, I am going to make a covenant Before all your people I will perform miracles which have not been produced in all the earth nor among any of the nations; and all the people among whom you live will see the working of the LORD, for it is a fearful thing that I am going to perform with you.

This declaration should cause us to possess our position as Sons of God. We are a special people, chosen of God to glorify his name and reveal his mighty power to all the nations. He wants to demonstrate his wonderful love and provision for those who serve him. He wants to reveal his awesome judgment upon those who rebel against him. We are established as a strong and fearful people through the miracles that he does for us. This is our promise!

Another promise is found in John 15:7. It declares: “If you abide in Me, and My words abide in you, ask whatever you wish, and it will be done for you.”

The secret of experiencing God’s miracle working power is revealed in this scripture. We must abide in him continually. This means that we are to live within the mantle of his righteousness. We are to absorb his attributes and nature until they become our own. Our carnal desires are replaced with the divine will of God through the righteousness of Jesus.

Jesus was the Word of God. In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. - John 1:1. And the Word became flesh, and dwelt among us, and we saw His glory, glory as of the only begotten from the Father full of grace and truth. - John 1:14.

As the words of the Heavenly Father dwelt in Him, so must his word abide in us. Again, the scriptures declare that Jesus is the bread of life. (John 6:35) we must eat of that bread until it saturates our entire life. Just as our body requires daily nourishment, our spirit must be fed as well.

We can pray with authority when we are immersed in his divine Spirit and filled with the Bread of Life. No longer will our prayers go unanswered. Because we have “Put on Christ” our petitions will be directed by His word and the instruction of His spirit. They will always meet the standards of God’s perfect will. We have what we ask because we are able to pray with knowledge and wisdom.

Unity and accord are very important. There are times that we feel the need of support and faith from others. Jesus certainly understood this. He promised to answer those who pray in agreement. (Matthew 18:19). “Again I say to you, that if two of you agree on earth about anything that they may ask-, it shall be done for them by My Father who is in heaven.” What a powerful promise.

Let us join with those of like faith and purpose knowing that as we pray individually or collectively we have great authority and power. The enemy’s constant attack will be repelled, his power broken, and circumstances that he produces dissolved. He cannot stand against us. We have ultimate authority over him. We are the sons God.

We must know our position. We have been commissioned by Jesus, to minister and speak on his behalf. He directed his disciples to “Go into all the world and preach the gospel to all creation. It has been believed and has been baptized shall be saved, but he who has disbelieved shall be condemned.

Jesus gave specific instructions to his disciples in Matthew 10:6-8. “Go to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. And as you go, preach, saying, ‘the kingdom of heaven is at hand.’ Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse the lepers, cast out demons. Freely you received freely give.”

The Apostle Paul declared that God had sent them as ambassadors for Christ to the church at Corinth. With that appointed authority, they insisted that the Corinthians repent of their sin and be reconciled to God. (II Corinthians 5:20)

Certainly, every believer stands commissioned to act in the authority of Jesus. We have been ordered to preach his message. We are to represent the Kingdom of God to both the righteous and the unrighteous alike.

We must know God's will.

Many people enter into intensive prayer and conclude with the phrase "if it be your will". While this may seem like the proper thing to do, actually, we are confessing our uncertainty and doubt. At best, we're saying "God, I don't know what you want, so I will just leave it with you". In reality, God has already done his part. He wants us to believe his word, act up on it, declare it with authority and receive his answer.

It is impossible to pray effectively if we do not know God's will concerning the situation. We cannot pray with expectant faith when we have no knowledge of God's wishes. It is far better to seek God's direction and have an understanding of what he wants to accomplish. Then, we can pray with conviction and faith.

While God may not reveal the details as to how he will answer our prayers, he certainly gives us direction as how to pray. We know the will of God through his Spirit and his Word. The scriptures are very clear. They repeatedly state the directives and purpose of God. We have already stated that we can ask of God, and he will do whatsoever we ask. Let us seek his direction as to how we should pray. Then let us pray with authority.

We must speak with authority. Audible prayers are much more powerful than silent ones. The manner in which we speak does make a difference. We need to pray with the conviction that we know who we are, we know where we stand, and we know what we want to accomplish. It is important that we state our desires boldly.

Prayer may be an acknowledgement of God's deity and holiness. (Praise and worship) or it can be an act of inquiry. It may be a petition (request) or, a directive (command). Which ever the case, we are to offer it with surety and authority. We should know the power with which we pray. We are the sons of God, redeemed by the blood of Jesus, filled with his Spirit, and acting in the authority of his name. We are members of the Kingdom of God.

All too often, we come before the Lord in prayer with uncertainty and timidity. We are not specific as to what we want from God. Our attitude is one of desire and hope rather than expectancy and faith. God wants us to use the authority that he is given us. He wants us to actively pursue his will and perform his miracles by declaring his Word. There is no substitute for the full authority that Jesus has given us. We must act upon it.

Most people are unaware of the power of the spoken word. Authoritative declaration according to the will of God has the ability to break the chains of darkness, to set the captive free, to heal the sick, and provide for the needy.

Jesus said: "Behold, I have given you authority to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy, and nothing will injure you." (Luke 10: 19). We have been given the vast authority and power over the enemy. Yet, very few of us ever use it.

We should become indignant that the devil would dare to attack us. God has given his people every tool that we need to combat the powers of darkness. Instead of cowering in fear or becoming defensive when the enemy attacks, we should go on the offensive. We need to take charge. Resist him and he will flee.

When we pray with authority, we have power to change the course of events, defeat the devil, heal the sick, quiet the raging storm, and take charge of uncontrolled circumstance. Yes, we can repel the evil within the land and alter its headlong descent into moral depravity and ultimate destruction.

We need to stand up as a great army of God, unifying in faith and purpose. Let us take the authority that God has given us. Let us march with authority against the evil, immoral powers of the anti-God system that has stolen our land.

Oh, that we might use the power and authority that God has given us. Collectively, we can bring the dominion of the enemy down by praying with authority. The victory is ours! His kingdom shall prevail! Jesus Christ is Lord!

Dear Pastor Peters

When you came with the communion series after I heard them, I wasn't sure about it - in fact I was afraid to do it cause I wasn't sure I would do it right. We go to small church here and God has given me the opportunity to share things with the pastor and he is beginning to see; well we went to church and I did not know he was going to have communion. As I sat there I was debating to stay or go and I stayed and started recalling all the points you made and really looking at myself and making sure no stone was unturned and then it came time to partake of the bread. I was scared. I did not want the curses of God come on me and my family and ask God for mercy; then I took the bread and I felt such peace, love and power - it was great; in fact I looked around and things seemed different, I mean this happened as soon as I took the bread into my mouth - it was great - and then came the fruit of the vine the same thing but it felt more spiritual than the bread and then I ask God if this is real; there are 3 areas in my life that I need victory over and He gave me the victories. God is so merciful. This all happened 3 weeks ago and I have been doing the communion on Sundays and it seems like each Sunday I grow and I also found that the memory of the death and resurrection of Christ Jesus is on my mind more.

I can't tell you in words how great it has been for the past 3 weeks of my life I never want to go back. It feels great. I hope so much that God is blessing you for your love of us and giving the truth to us Thank you and you, your family and staff are in my prayers daily.

Dear Mr. Peters:

Someone, who has received some books that I have written, sent me your book, The Greatest Discovery of our Age. I wrote a book about America about 3 years ago, America: The Spiritual Israel, and this person had received my books, and in turn, sent me your book. God had clearly shown me too that America is Israel today, not the natural Israel in the Middle East. As you said, most everyone thinks I am crazy, but there are a few that do believe. Your book was just confirmation that God is showing others this truth as well. I am always thrilled when I come into contact with someone else who is of like-spirit and truth. God is truly revealing His truths to His chosen people.

I am not a minister, nor anybody special, just someone who made myself available to God and asked Him to show me His truths, that I no longer wanted a man in a pulpit or a denomination or church telling me what to believe.

I just wanted to write and tell you that your book was very interesting and totally confirms my book as well.

Dear Pastor Peters,
Thank you for the two tapes I received last week. These two tapes, Pt.'s 11 and 12 of the snake stompin series, are powerful instruction of the Word. Sometimes I find myself feeling troubled about what has and is happening in my country and then I remember. . . I've read the end of the book: We win.

And, until Christ's physical return, we have God's promise in Luke 1:71. Still, I don't like what is happening, but, I do understand that it is as a result of our sins. Also, thanks to you, I understand we can fight this spiritual war. And, also thanks to you, I am using our most powerful weapon (prayer) against these Canaanite Cockroaches. Thanks to you, "It feels great to be a Christian Soldier."

Hello Pastor,
I've been thinking of what happened to the tribe of Benjamin when homosexuality was rampant in that tribe and the other tribes could not conquer them until the main body had repented of their own sins. How much of the population of modern day Israel must repent before we cleanse the kingdom by force? When I was a boy I remembered watching a snake charm a frog. The frog would just sit still and scream as the snake swayed to and fro as it got closer to the frog and then the snake was surprised by my 22 rifle. That's how I feel about the people of the United States. They scream but do nothing and if we don't take care of the snake who will? I am going to keep broadcasting your teaching and do a little myself. I recently began talking about the difference between a republic and a democracy where one is rule by law (God's law) and rule by man. The description of a democracy as defined by the 1928 Army Training Manual is what I use to equate a democracy to communism.

Dear Pastor Peters,
I am sorrowed to hear the news of Col. Jack Mohr's passing. He was definitely a leader the faithful were honored to follow. Col. Mohr and Pastor Earl Jones are two great and honorable men who brought real masculinity back into the covenant Christian churches. I am thankful that we will meet again at that first resurrection. We don't always say it but we love you Pastor Peters. May our God, Jesus Christ, bless and keep you and yours.

Dear Pete,
I want to thank you for continuing to send me your tapes. Even though I have not contributed to Scriptures for America for some time, your messages, even though I don't always understand everything in them, is still the closest to God's Word of anything out there.

Like you, I want to "be in that number" like Gideon. But for years, my own efforts have accomplished little or nothing.

Your idea of a write-in campaign for Jesus Christ for President in 2004 may very well have the effect of separating the wheat from the chaff. For whatever my opinion is worth.

Dear Pastor Peters,
Two articles from the Kansas City Star that may interest you.

I have two granddaughters – 22 and 25 – from whom I hear some women's lib. But when they read "The Fulfilled Wife", there was a surprising reaction – very favorable. Their question was, "Grandma, where are we going to find this good husband?"

So, perhaps you could write for us the companion article – what the proper deportment should be of a good husband and father.

Personal from the Editor's Pen

As this newsletter goes to press, the Scriptures for America staff is going to camp. We hope to have the messages preached at camp as an insert in this newsletter and to tell you about the gathering in the next newsletter..

Our article on "A Vote for Jesus" is just an idea at this stage and we will debut the idea at our annual 2003 Scriptures for America Rocky Mountain Family Bible Camp in order to get input from the people there. Please give us your input on this idea.

It with sadness that we report to you the passing of Colonel Mohr. His last writing and mailing on the Holocaust Education being forced onto our children is being offered in his memory to our supporters in this newsletter for free. Jack would want you to have it. Just write to request it.
