Election Sermon 2008

On March 9, 2008, we aired from our Sunday pulpit (broadcast to the internet, satellite & s/w) a 2008 Election Sermon. This article is from the notes of that sermon, (which is archived at our website) and it will also suffice for our standard "From the Editor's Pen".

There is a war going on between good and evil, and has been going on for a long time in this country and the world. Believe it or not, there was a time in this country one could not hold a public office without a public profession of Jesus Christ, and one certainly could not get elected to office without the endorsement of Christian preachers, who at election time, preached what was known as election sermons. [Note: there is a portion of our country's history that people don't know. For example, most people think George Washington was the first President of the United States. He was not! For more forbidden history, order the book America: Free, White and Christian, available for a $9 offering.]

Sermons, particularly the election sermons, once determined the political direction of our country. From the founding of the New England colonies to the outbreak of the Revolutionary War, churchgoers listened to about seven thousand sermons, amounting to fifteen thousand hours of indoctrination in their lifetimes.

Election Sermon 2008

I have one book in my library entitled Political Sermons of the American Founding Era 1730-1805 that contains hundreds of them.

One can only imagine what those old stalwart Christian preachers of yesterday would preach today, if they were to preach an election sermon concerning the candidates put before us today.

Today the Judeo-Christian churches are basically forbidden to endorse a political candidate, for fear of losing their 501(c)3 tax exempt status, and the thinking from so many such churches is the church and the preacher should stay out of the political arena.

As stated in this preacher's Election Sermon of 2008 of March 9, 2008, if what he suspects is right, concerning the coming of the Master to take the wise virgins to the wedding feast (Matthew 25), then he hopes that he and the flock the Great Shepherd has given him to shepherd will not be here to cast a vote anyway. But, he is not sure, and certainly could be wrong in his suspicion on the timing of the event. But for sure, someone will still be here, for only half of the virgins (representing Christians!) made it into the wedding feast. Truth is, this preacher wonders if there really will be a presidential election, not that the elections in this country are legitimate anyway.

With the elimination of a paper voting trail, it has become like the Communist son-of-hell Stalin once said, "it matters not who votes--what matters is who counts the votes." The 'hanging chad' nonsense of the last presidential election farce was all just to make the people 'think' that their vote counts.

“it matters not who votes--what matters is who counts the votes.”

Dear Pastor,

It was a very true observation by Pastor Peters---I can't remember in which message I heard it---that the devil (satan) considers this Earth to be his kingdom of evil. When God, our Father, created Adam out of the Earth, satan has ever since wanted to destroy ALL descendants of Adam or at least miscegenate them out-of-existence. I have noticed personally how people of non-White background get delighted when they see a white woman with a non-white man. The Jezebel spirit makes white women think they are having a great time, but I think eventually they realize the mistake they make when they have miscegenated offspring. The Law of God is no longer written on the heart of the miscegenated children.

I wanted to add something to a very good comment Pastor Peters made about the "DaVinci Code" movie. Pastor Peters was absolutely correct 100% when he said that at the end of the movie, when Tom Hanks prays to the tomb below the ground, the film was showing obedience to satan, not Jesus Christ. The movie's beginning scene in the Louvre art museum in Paris shows Hank's character trying to unscramble the "code" left by the murdered man. One of the possible "decodings" flashed briefly on the movie screen is "devil divine." I believe this is the secret, esoteric, meaning of the film -- the worship of satan -- as is done by Hank's character in the end of the movie, which Pastor Peters astutely pointed out. I heard Pastor's sermon, "DaVinci Code Decoded", before I saw the film at the movie theatre so I was prepared for some of the "surprises."

Matthew 23: 27-28 (NKJV) "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you are like whitewashed tombs which indeed appear beautiful outwardly, but inside are full of dead men's bones and all uncleanness. Even so you also outwardly appear righteous to men, but inside you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness." I think this Bible verse summarizes the film, DaVinci Code. It is so full of lies and deceptions-- "How dark the Con of Man?" INDEED!

Keep Faithing in Jesus Christ! The Way the Truth and the Life!

Hello,

I just wanted to write you all because I was thinking on when Pastor Peters played a little of the Rolling Stones song at church this Sunday, on the 27th. Pastor commented on the beating of drums calling up demons.

You know, not far from where I live, there is an Amerindian witch who, in spring, has little gatherings of people sitting in the fields near her house beating drums and chanting. She claims that the purpose is to coax the little plants she sows in the field to come up. I think she's really calling up her dead Injun ancestors for some evil purpose.

Also, regarding the Rolling Stones` Mick Jagger: Years ago I remember reading about a curious human trait called Pixie-ism. Some people are born with certain facial features, some of which are a pushed up nose, thick lips, big ears that stick out, and bugged out eyes. Just look at a picture of Mick Jagger. He's a classic example of pixie-ism. I have read of the ancient pagan British lore talking about pixies, which is another word used to describe a faerie. Faeries were considered very dangerous. The pagans were deathly afraid of them. I wonder if faeries really existed then, as well as now.

Anyhow, I just thought I'd relate it to you. Take care. Yours in Christ, Northern PA

Dear Pastor Peters,

You mentioned Heath Ledger in your excellent sermon today. I've just run across this explanation of his death from a usually reliable source. Big Pharma, again. You say his coffin had the Star of David on it? Well, perhaps that's as it should be. For their own get canonized just like the catholic cults saints do. Anyway, this makes what you said about him more understandable.

Many thanks for all you all do and may the Christian God bless you abundantly. Via email

Election Sermon 2008

With all that declared, we again state as we did four years ago--cast your vote for Jesus. Do it as a write-in vote. We have reprinted in this newsletter an article from our Volume 5, 2003 "Jesus Christ for President" DragonSlayer. Read the article starting on page 8.

In our nightly live radio broadcast of 2-26-2008 (also archived at our website) we gave the following truths about our 'election process'. Perhaps you have heard of the saying "War is the anti-Christ's harvest season". Well, the election campaign season is another of 'their' harvest seasons as well, where millions upon millions of dollars are spent. Spent for what? For air time. The god of this world is the prince of the air (Ephesians 2:2) and his little hell-hound alien children of hell own and/or control the monopoly size portion of the air waves and 'they' have a harvest season every four years.

The whole thing is presented like some sort of sporting event or game, be it a woman and negro wrestling in a mud pit, or a horse race on a dirt track. It is almost like the gladiator games of Rome, to the Stupor Bowl of today. At first, there are a lot of contenders on the field or in the arena fighting it out, and everyone gets to place their bets, today called 'campaign contributions' (which are tax deductible...). Then it slowly gets narrowed down, as the playoffs continue, until we get the two teams to the Stupor Bowl. Only there really aren't two teams...they are both on the same team. It's only made to appear to be two parties; but it is really just one body, one serpentine body with two heads.

As for the presidential race being compared to a horse race, it is. It is a rigged race, but everyone gets a horse to bet on. Even a long-shot. I used to wonder why some would put their horse in the Kentucky Derby to run, when it costs lots of money and they knew that their horse had no chance of winning. The answer is this. There is the prestige factor, and they do make money, whether they win or not. Having a horse in the race brings greater stud fees down the road and higher priced foals.

Take for example presidential candidate Giuliani, who is for homosexual rights and abortion, AND who got so-called born-again preacher Pat Robertson to endorse him. Giuliani took in $64 million dollars, spent $54 million dollars, (and his wife gets paid $125,000.00 per year to write his speeches) and he gets $100,00.00 for speaking engagements! The $10 million that's left, after all is said and done, in what they call their 'war chest', is theirs. Ask yourself, what was Pat Robertson's cut, and why does he get to endorse a political candidate and not lose his 501(c)3 status?

It would not be surprising to actually see Ms. Hillary get in. That could be the ultimate fulfillment of Isaiah's prophecy of women ruling over us (Isaiah 3:12). It could be our God saying that if you want women to rule in your households, in your churches, in your Congress, then I'll give you one for the Presidency! The Law of God forbids women to rule over us, and for most of the history of our country, women could not even vote, for our country used to rest upon the Word of God!

In that Word is a Law that forbids a Negro, or in the case of Mr. Obama, a half-black man (such

Pastor Peters

Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition;

First meaning: For a man of sin to be concealed, there must first be an apostasy to hide him.

So the apostasy comes before the concealing which comes before any possible revealing. (You can't reversal what has not first been hidden)

1. Apostasy 2. Concealing 3. Revealing.

OR

1. Disobedience. 2. Apostasy results 3. Concealing follows. 4. A whistle blower revealing

The apostasy could be good Pastors simply not obeying "let no man deceive you".

So that failure to obey "let no man deceive you" permits the likes of a John Hagee to deceive calling the man of sin 'God's Chosen'.

Second meaning: A falling away results in, or comes before, a revealing.

1. Falling away (of what) 2. Followed by a revealing.

A deception blinds the eyes. (Concealing - like a blindfold) If / when the blinders fall away the man of sin can be seen, (a revealing)

A whistle-blower can result in a removal of blinders. "Ahhhh I see....." when the mind is opened.

Pastor Peters,

I know we have many enemies, I used to go to a small house church on Fri. nights, but after finding your Ministry I hadn't been to the house church in a long time, and upon going back down there, I am basically an Enemy now to these people with the knowledge you have imparted to me, I simply cannot even begin to let these people know the things I have learned, and our worst enemy would be from someone like these people who I am speaking of in the house church.

I don't go anymore, and when I had gone back down there it was hard to just sit and listen to a bunch of non-sense, I realize we are all in different stages of understanding, but even knowing that I cannot sit there and listen to things I feel is un-important, yet I cannot let them know what I have learned as they feel they already have all the knowl-

Hello Pastor Peters,

I would like to be removed from your Newsletter mailing list. I now have internet access to your website (to save your ministry postage costs). You are always in my prayers Pastor Peters. Thank you for helping me and guiding me on the right path to Jesus Christ. Thank you again so very much for praying on the air last September for my 10- year old daughter. She is doing much better now. A devoted listener. p.s. I listen on shortwave stations 5070, 5890, 3215 and 12.160 - in Northern, NJ

Pastor Peters,

Just wanted to back-up what you mentioned about the school gunmen being sons of hell, just like Judas Iscariot -- "they" do their deed then kill themselves: satan enters into them.

This person who did the shooting at DeKalb, Illinois -- Northern Illinois University --- he was a Jew (Edomite). No doubt about it.

He had three tattoos (at least three that the media are telling about). The first was a Pentagram (upside down five-point star), which is satanic. The second was a large skull with a dagger penetrating through the top of the skull down through the inside. The third was a picture of "SAW" from the movie Jigsaw Killer. (I did not see this movie, just read about it in the newspaper). "Saw" is a creepy looking clown/killer who rides a red tricycle.

Anybody that would get such tattoos put on his body must have some problems, or a demon, or perhaps the tattoos attract more demons into the person?

It's especially sad because I have relatives and friends who have graduated from NIU, and I have visited that University a number of times although not recently.

Just wanted to be another witness to the fact that there are sons of hell out there, but the media seem to revel in the blood and murder. That's what is sickening to me. The gleeful sensationalism of the killings.

But my comfort is Jesus, because I know The Word is true-- God is NOT mocked! (Galatians 6:7)

Sincerely your brother in Jesus Christ.

Election Sermon 2008

used to be called a high-yeller) to rule over God's people (Deuteronomy 17:15).

Strange how things are; Public Law 97-280, passed by both Houses of Congress, states that the Bible is the Word of God, and is the Book on which our Republic rests, and that we should read and study it. It forbids both Hillary and Obama from being over us! As for liberal McCain, I'm suspicious, not only of his looks, but of his liberal political career, and his name makes me extra suspicious (1 John 3:12).

Then, of course, there will those who bet on the long shot that's put in the race. This year, it seems to be Ron Paul. He collected $20 million in the last quarter of 2007. It has been reported and documented there was voter fraud in the New Hampshire primaries, and Mr. Paul's supporters wanted him to spend $67,000.00 of his $20 million for a recount, but he wouldn't do it.

By the way, this preacher remembers the ex-CIA man posing as a Patriot, Col. Bo Gritz (who openly declared he would defend homosexuals to have the right to be homosexuals), ran for president a few years ago. Many reported he did quite well financially in doing so and spent little of it in the actual campaign.

As for Mr. Paul being in the Congress for so many years, Congressman Paul Finley, author of They Dare to Speak Out (available from SFA for a $10 donation) proves you don't stay in Congress that many years without supporting a blank-check policy to the anti-Christ Israeli nation. You can tell a lot about a man by who his hero's are. Mr. Paul's hero is Martin Luther King, Jr. Any honest researcher that is more concerned with being correct than politically correct knows that Mr. King was a Communist trained, whore-mongering womanizer, a race-mixer and a plagiarizer. If a has-been cowboy, wanna-be preacher can learn such true history, don't you think that Mr. Paul could?

Consider the following news item:

Arlington, Virginia-Republican presidential candidate Ron Paul today issued the following statement reflecting on the struggle for civil rights and the legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.:

"It is especially fitting that we take time to reflect on one man's struggles to defend our Constitutional freedoms during this primary election season. January 15 was the birthday of the great freedom fighter, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., and on Monday, we honor him nationwide for his sacrifice and love for liberty for all people."

"To me, the timing is more than a coincidence. The American people, regardless of color or creed, have the opportunity to choose a candidate who will uplift the ideals for which Dr. King fought--and died."

If you think Ron Paul is a better vote than Jesus Christ, then so cast your vote. Same with the others, but I think the old time election sermon preachers would agree with me. We only have one viable candidate to vote for, and that is Jesus Christ.

the books, that someone does not want you to know about, says that this ancient manuscript, this old book, is, and again I quote, “the rock on which our Republic rests.” Strange how things are, this book isn’t allowed in our schools, but the law says of it that we need to, and again I quote, “study and apply the teachings of it.” What is it? Find out! Go to the website anotheruntoldstory.com. It’s there for a short time only.

The Book in the Bog

Did you hear about the recent discovery, discovery of an ancient text, and ancient prophetic text? It’s quite a story, happened recently. Seems an eagle-eyed worker was operating a backhoe in central Ireland, with his tractor motor roaring, and the long reaching steel scope clawing in peat potting soil. He saw something, something quite out of the ordinary lying in the mud. It had been laying there preserved for over a thousand years. A medieval book, a parchment, written on animal skin that was perfectly preserved by the tannic acid in that old damp acidic Irish bog. Remember the book we’ve been telling you about? The book public law 97-280 says you, and I, ought to study and apply. The book past presidents’ claim our “Republic rests on.” This was a copy of that book. But what was strikingly noteworthy of the discovery was the page that it was open to. That’s right, it was found open. But that’s another untold story. Visit the website anotheruntoldstory.com and you will see a picture of the book, and read what was on the page it was open to. It was open to an ominous prophecy that applies today.

This issue of the DragonSlayer Newsletter has informed you of just one of the projects the team here at Scriptures for America has been working on. As the webmaster, I must state, I am impressed with the way this staff came together to accomplish our latest project, anotheruntoldstory.com (see pages 16-18). Of course, we give the credit to the Holy Spirit for providing us with the strength and endurance needed to achieve this deed.

Also, I am sure you have seen changes taking place at our Internet headquarters, www.scripturesforamerica.org. It was stated in the last newsletter that over the upcoming months you will witness many changes at the SFA website. Well, what you see now is just the tip of the iceberg. Some of the changes you can expect next will be the implementation of the SFA ONLINE MINISTRY RESOURCES CENTER (SOMRC). The SOMRC will be a fully functional online-cart that will allow for broader access to the many resources we have here at SFA such as books, tapes, CD’s, DVD’s, pamphlets, etc.

Finally, another project we are working on is our “Day of the Lord” BLOG (short for web log). This feature will allow for documenting and tracking of the “Day of the Lord” events that are exponentially increasing within our world. We plan for this to be a site that we can all use daily to receive up-to-date “Day of the Lord” information and perspectives. And, yes, your participation will be welcomed and encouraged.

Until next month, please continue to pray for us as we work to implement a more effective Internet outreach.

A Vote for Jesus Christ

The Greeks, I am told, never said “I think”; rather, they would say “the thought occurred to me”, recognizing that good thoughts and ideas come from another source. Well, a thought has occurred to me that I feel compelled to share with you. If it is a good idea then it is from God (for He does use weak, foolish, and insignificant men). If it is bad idea then I shall take full credit for it.

I have wondered how we can get God’s people to cry out to Him, and I think this idea is a way.

I have wondered how one could initiate an Elijah-inspired, Mount Carmel type confrontation with the Baal priests of the land and force the people to choose whom they shall serve. (I Kings 18:21); I think this idea maybe could do just that.

I have wondered how one could expose the Christ-less politicians, organizations, and corporations. This idea could do it.

I have wondered what one can do to carry out the command given to us in II Peter 3:12 to “hasten the day of God.” This idea could do that.

This idea could be acceptable to most all churches. It can cross denominational lines of most churches because most churches hold to the following premises:

- Christ is King.
- Where two or three are gathered together in His name there He is also.
- Christ is the answer.
- They pray the Lord’s Prayer – Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven.

This idea is even for the 501(c)3 churches whose mouths have been shut for fear of losing their tax-exempt status. It is also for the people who do not claim to be Christians or to be a part of a church, but are decent, down-to-earth people who live the ethic of “doing unto others as they would have others do unto them.” Such people have one common denominator. That is:

I have wondered how we can get God’s people to cry out to Him, and I think this idea is a way.

Another Untold Story

Also you can help be our writers. For example, the following story about the lawsuit against God was sent to us by one of our listeners. If you have story ideas, visit the new website www.AnotherUntoldStory.com and post them there or write us. Following are examples of the two minute broadcast, which will have an intro and outro jingle, directing them to the new website.

The Lawsuit Against God

What motivated him to do it, to mock the religion of others and to deny the teaching of the book? Who really knows? But he really did it. Filed a lawsuit against God. Nebraska State Senator, longest serving State Senator, Ernie Chambers venomously filed a lawsuit in Douglas County District Court. Alleging God caused, and I quote, “widespread death and destruction and terrorization of millions upon millions of the earth’s inhabitants.” And guess what then happened to him? Something he wasn’t expecting happened. He happened to get an answer. I now read from an Associated Press article, quote, “A legislator who filed a lawsuit against God has gotten something he might not have expected, a response. One of two court filings from God came Wednesday under ‘other worldly circumstances’ according to John Friend, clerk of the Douglas county district court, in Omaha. This one miraculously appeared on the counter, ‘it just all of a sudden was here, poof’ Friend said.” And what did the filing from God say? Well that’s another untold story told at the website anotheruntoldstory.com, but maybe we’ll tell you tomorrow on Another Untold Story.

The Law Directing You to Read a Certain Book

We don’t know if it was unanimous but we do know both houses of congress passed it. The law we’ve been telling you about, that basically no one told you about, Public Law 97-280. It’s passed and on the books and it is about a book. An old book that, though ancient, is not at all out of date. In fact, the law says of the ancient writing that it, and I quote, “has made a unique contribution in shaping the United States as the distinctive and blessed nation.” That law says of that book, that the teaching of that book, quote, “inspired concepts of civil government that are contained in our Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States.” Public Law 97-280 that is on

Announcing AnotherUntoldStory.com

This preacher reminds himself and the church body he pastors nationwide and worldwide of the need and the responsibility of us reaching the lost. “And He said to them, "Go into all the world and preach the gospel to all creation. "He who has believed and has been baptized shall be saved; but he who has disbelieved shall be condemned." Mark 16:15-16 NASB.

A Holy Spirit thought occurred to me shortly into the year 2008 of a two-minute radio spot entitled Another Untold Story, to be daily aired on stations throughout the US. One of the most popular of radio broadcasts over the years has been Paul Harvey’s The Rest of the Story. Then it occurred to me our Master Lord Jesus Christ was a master storyteller; He taught by stories, and they were called parables. Our people love stories.

The enemy has used story telling out of Hollywood for the last forty years to advance the kingdom of Satan. Now it’s our turn to turn the storytelling tables on them. As this newsletter is being printed we are in the finishing stages of developing a new website, www.AnotherUntoldStory.com. On March 3rd we will be advertising it nationwide and debuting Another Untold Story broadcast in a completely new radio market reaching eighty-nine radio markets in major cities. That’s just the first phase, plan A. We have a second plan concerning Plan B, which will involve you, our readers, listeners, and supporters (see the next newsletter for more details). The purpose is to get the lost to come to our new website to hear the rest of Another Untold Story and then click onto The Greatest Story Ever Told which will also be at the new website. There they can hear the Gospel story and are taught to believe it and told how to obey it.

This is an evangelistic outreach effort that we as a body of believers are behind and of course it is expensive as well as time consuming. We have to pay for the radio spots. Your tithes at work! It is a lot more work for my staff and me as well. Please pray for the success of this reaching the lost, pray against the enemy that will try to stop the airing of these broadcasts with slander, etc. and pray for the preacher who has taken on the added task. A two-minute daily broadcast of this nature may not sound like much, but it takes much work and inspiration and perspiration so pray for your preacher.

A Vote for Jesus Christ

They do not think poorly of Jesus Christ, have nothing against Him, and certainly believe He is better than most men and certainly better than most politicians.

This idea is even for atheists. Those that not only do not believe Jesus is God, but don’t believe that there is a God.

This idea is for the content and the discontent...even for the really discontented; the ones that want a revolution, an over-throw of the establishment.

This idea is for those who have lost hope and sense it is no use.

This idea is for those who would, in their hearts, like to defy the system.

You have heard of “Grass Roots Movements.” Well, this idea goes back to grass roots; the very roots of the birth of our country.

This idea is endorsable by those who want to get more people active in the political process—to get more people to vote.

This idea is a means of protest without being seen as a protestor.

It is an idea that could get the people thinking in terms of “THE KINGDOM” rather than in terms of democracy, republic, constitution, etc...

And, it is an idea that can help correct one of the biggest mistakes God’s people ever made.

A CRUSADING CAMPAIGN FOR CHRIST FOR PRESIDENT in 2008. Yes, that is the idea. Lets all cast our vote; a write-in vote for Jesus Christ for President in 2008.

IS IT A CRAZY IDEA?

Oh, I know at first thought that this might sound like a crazy idea, but I say it is an idea whose time has come—or I should say, has come again. This is not the first time someone has had this so-called crazy idea. Only, they had it on an even grander scale which I shall address further on.

But for now, let’s address what some may call crazy as a sort of involuntary reaction. It is the idea that we cannot have Christ as president or even as king UNTIL Jesus returns physically.

What was the biggest mistake that God’s people ever made? Was it not what we read in I Samuel 8:7?

A Vote for Jesus Christ

And the Lord said to Samuel, "Listen to the voice of the people in regard to all that they say to you, for they have not rejected you but they have rejected Me from being king over them."

Was He or was He not King over them? While all of the other nations had physical, flesh-and-blood kings over them, they had an entirely different King and thus, an entirely different nation, an entirely different kingdom or government. To all of the other heathen nations at that time, such a concept was a crazy idea. Now many today sense a need for an entirely different system. After all, a better government is always the campaign promise of election candidates. So, even those in government or running for a government position acknowledge the need for a better government, and, of course believe, if they are elected, it will get better.

Well, you couldn't get any better government than what the Israelites had with God as King; and, there was no physical, flesh-and-blood presence. Now who was their king? The God who did become flesh and blood and dwelt among us!!

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. He was in the beginning with God. All things came into being by Him, and apart from Him nothing came into being that has come into being. In Him was life, and the life was the light of men. And the light shines in the darkness, and the darkness did not comprehend it. John 1:1-5

And the Word became flesh, and dwelt among us, and we beheld His glory, glory as of the only begotten from the Father, full of grace and truth. John 1:14

So, if He could be King then and not be physically present, why not correct the mistake and make Him at least president now?

Talk about a Grass Roots Movement! The very roots of America's beginning goes back to this very idea—this so-called crazy idea.

A Vote for Jesus Christ

As for the many other questions that may arise from having posed this idea, let it be said for now that a walk of faith is one step at a time. In the forming of our nation, they pictured a grander scale than president—they pictured Jesus as King. It was a step of faith. Concerning a step of faith, when God told the Israelites to take the land, they went even though they had no idea how they were going to cross the flooding Jordan River. As a result of marching forward one step at a time God made a way. If we want to march forward in victory, then let us, in the election of 2008, take this step of faith and cast a write-in vote for Jesus Christ for President and God will make a way.

For whatever is born of God overcomes the world; and this is the victory that has overcome the world – our faith.

A Vote for Jesus Christ

Atheists and agnostic philosophers will be enticed to vote for Him because it is their chance to prove there is no God. If there is an over-whelming vote for Him—that is, a crying out to Him—and He does not step forward then they can say, “See, I told you so.” As I stated, this movement is for the content and discontent alike. For the people who are content with the status quo of “Fiddley Dee or Fiddley Dum”; voting for Jesus Christ is no problem. And, for the discontent, it is a way to show their discontentment.

For those who have lost hope—the Bible says Jesus Christ is our hope—to cast such a vote is to again have hope.

Such a vote is a way for those who want to defy the system and to do so safely and in the privacy of the voting booth. As for voting, this could cause that huge mass that have given up hope and thus given up voting, to register to vote. Don’t think that a huge block of new voters won’t get the attention of the politicians, and it could cause good men with godly leadership abilities and values to surface as well to fill other offices.

Now, many no longer vote because they recognize it has made no difference who they voted for because the system has just continually moved from what is right and virtuous to what is more unjust and insane. (Some say moving from the right to the left). They see their effort to vote as a waste of time. Well, voting for Jesus, then, can not be any more of a wasted vote. Anything you do in the Name of Jesus is not wasted, rather it is rewarded. Many do not vote because they see casting a vote for the lesser of two evils as still a vote for evil; but, voting for Jesus will be a vote for good, not evil. We are going to have a dictatorship, i.e. a king anyway as our presidents have been becoming more so after each election, so why not have the best king there is become president.

Many want a revolution—that is, a change. This can be the answer to a non-violent, bloodless revolution... for Jesus has already endured at the hands of violent, ruthless men and has already shed the blood. We do not necessarily have to have more violence and bloodshed if we but vote for Him.

Most importantly, it is a step; a step of faith in reversing the worst mistake His people ever made.

A Vote for Jesus Christ

In the excellent history book entitled The Light and The Glory (available from SFA for a $12 donation) on page 267 the authors show the idea our fore-fathers had prior to the American Revolution.

But most Crown-appointed governors remained submitted to their king, and one wrote to the Board of Trade in England: “If you ask an American, who is his master? He will tell you he has none, nor any governor but Jesus Christ.” Which may have given rise to the cry which was soon passed up and down the length of America by the Committees of

Correspondence: “No king but King Jesus!”

I won’t get into the mechanics of how this grass roots movement could spread like a hot prairie fire. Suffice it to say in this article that it would be a move that could:

- Force people to choose.
- Expose politicians and Baal priests alike.
- Get people to cry out to God.
- Hasten the Day of the Lord.

The Mount Carmel Confrontation was with people and religious leaders alike when Eliza said in I Kings 18:20-21:

So Ahab sent a message among all the sons of Israel, and brought the prophets together at Mount Carmel. And Elijah came near to all the people and said, “How long will you hesitate between two opinions? If the Lord is God, follow Him; but if Baal, follow him.” But the people did not answer him a word.

The churches say Jesus is King—yeah, even King of Kings—and they say Jesus is the answer. Isaiah said in Isaiah 29:13.

Then the Lord said, “Because this people draw near with their words and honor Me with their lip service, but they remove their hearts far from Me, and their reverence for Me consists of tradition learned by rote”

The Mount Carmel Confrontation was with people and religious leaders alike...

A Vote for Jesus Christ

Picture this possibility—and it is a possibility—a nationally advertised web-site entitled Jesus Christ for President that shows a form letter to be sent to religious organizations such as TBN, 700 Club, Focus on the Family, the Southern Baptist, etc., etc., just asking if they will endorse Jesus Christ as President and tell their followers to register to vote and to write His name in on the ballot. Then, at the web-site, show the ones that refuse to endorse and choose Jesus Christ for President. (we don't have the staff to do this, but there may be volunteers).

Then at the end and at the beginning of the list of such Baal priests, state the question, "Should you support those who will not support Jesus for President?" It would put them on the spot to choose because they don't want to lose their support. Likewise, there can be, at the web-site, a list of politicians who refuse to support and endorse Jesus Christ for President. Some may well think it would be political suicide to do so; but, it would be political suicide not to do so.

And who can disagree with the party platform that Jesus runs on? It is very simple—"Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven." Then the Ten Commandments could be listed, and for more specifics, simply read His law that covers it all from economics to military to foreign policy.

The people casting a write-in vote for Jesus is tantamount to the people crying out to their God and the Bible tells us over and over that when they do so He hears and answers. Consider the following Scriptures:

And when the sons of Israel cried to the Lord, the Lord raised up a deliverer for the sons of Israel to deliver them, Othniel the son of Kenaz, Caleb's younger brother.

Judges 3:9

But when the sons of Israel cried to the Lord, the Lord raised up a deliverer for them, Ehud the son of Gera, the Benjamite, a left-handed man. And the sons of Israel sent tribute by him to Eglon the king of Moab. Judges 3:15

“Should you support those who will not support Jesus for President?”

A Vote for Jesus Christ

So Israel was brought very low because of Midian, and the sons of Israel cried to the Lord. Now it came about when the sons of Israel cried to the Lord on account of Midian, That the Lord sent a prophet to the sons of Israel, and he said to them, “Thus says the Lord, the God of Israel, “It was I who brought you up from Egypt, and brought you out from the house of slavery. And I delivered you from the hands of the Egyptians and from the hand s of all your oppressors, and dispossessed them before you and gave you their land, And I said to you, ‘I am the Lord your God; you shall not fear the gods of the Amorites in whose land you live. Buy you have not obeyed Me.’” Judges 6:6-10

It would also be fulfilling the commandment of II Peter 3:12 of “looking for and hastening the coming of the Day of the Lord.”

As for 501(c)3 churches, the ones who are afraid to endorse a candidate for president for fear of losing their IRS tax-exempt status, even they can endorse this concept of a write-in vote for Jesus without fear.

As for possibilities, it is possible to list all of the churches in America who will not at least read and make known the concept of a write-in vote for Jesus to their congregations. One can buy a mailing list which contains the addresses of every church in America. With this list, one could mail campaign flyers to every church in America; then, at the web-site, by state and cities, one could list the churches that refuse to endorse Jesus Christ as President.

The truth is one can probably get campaign flyers passed out in bars and brothels more easily than in churches. The web-site could have stories from individual campaigners in different towns telling of the bars and bar-owners that allowed the campaign brochures to be passed out versus the churches that did not.

There can be campaign buttons such as “Jesus is King – why not President too?”

And, what politician can find skeletons in Jesus' closet or dig up mud on the sinless, pure Christ? For that matter, what politician could, in good conscience, run against Him, putting himself forward as a better candidate than Jesus Christ?

Even those who do not believe in Jesus Christ will, for the most part, believe He is better than the politicians of our times.
